Practice Profile

Rachael has more than a decade of experience as an advocate specializing in criminal litigation. She has extensive experience in conducting trials both on her own and as a led junior in High Court, District Court and Magistrates' Courts.

During the period from 2017 to 2024, she has served as a deputy magistrate numerous times, presiding over trials covering a wide range of legal matters. In addition to handling general criminal cases, Rachael is also well-versed in managing departmental summonses related to construction site safety and other regulations. She has also been engaged to assist with handling witnesses and evidence in civil fraud cases.

Rachael distinguishes herself through her dedicated and patient communication with clients. This approach not only furthers their legal cases but also offers valuable support during challenging times.
